Chevaliers d'Argouges is a family company created in 1991 by the descendants of five generations of master chocolatiers. Created next to a castle defended by knights ("chevaliers") from the brotherhood "Argouges," the name of the company came as a matter of course. Located halfway between Mont St Michel and the standing beaches of Normandy, the chocolates are handcrafted, combining authentic recipes with innovation, and made with certified 100% pure cocoa butter and boast a high cocoa percentage.

Maison Peltier was founded in 1946 by the Peltier family, beekeepers from father to son. It was Yves Peltier who, after receiving numerous awards for the quality of his harvests, developed the artisanal production of gingerbread from carefully selected ingredients (French flour, French butter, French eggs). The success of gingerbread, resulting from unparalleled know-how, naturally led him to the creation of a range of biscuits and honey products, without coloring or preservatives, which are presented in a range of tins.

In 2004, the Breton chocolatier Philip Le Petitcorps created this treat- an exquisite chocolate bonbon composed of a fine shell of dark chocolate filled with a fondant center of caramel au beurre salé-and in 2014 it was elected best specialty in France by the National Culinary Academy. The pompon winks an eye at the “batchi” or cap of the sailors in the National Marine. Legend has it that touching the red pompon will bring luck.
